1. Introduction to Hedayah

Answering A Need

Hedayah was created as an independent international organization working with the Global Counterterrorism Forum (GCTF) and other international stakeholders

Countering Violent Extremism Working Group
(Co-Chaired by UAE and UK)

GCTF Structure

GCTF
GLOBAL COUNTERTERRORISM FORUM

Coordinating Committee

Regional Working Group – Capacity Building in the Sahel

Working Group – Foreign Terrorist Fighters

Regional Working Group – Capacity Building in the Horn of Africa

Working Group: Criminal Justice, Rule of Law

Working Group: Countering Violent Extremism

Working Group: Detention and Reintegration

Mission

- To serve as the premier international hub for CVE policy makers, experts and practitioners to enhance understanding and share best practices.
- To promote and support an effective evidence-based approach that lessens the threat through innovative dialogue and collaboration, research and analysis, training and capacity building.

Countering Violent Extremism (CVE)

CVE is about reducing the terrorist threat through non-coercive approaches that directly address its root causes.

	Traditional Counterterrorism	Countering Violent Extremism (CVE)
Action	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Deny opportunities for terrorist activity• Disrupt and arrest terrorist groups	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Challenge the structural conditions that lead to terrorism• Initiate activity to discourage engagement or re-engagement in violent extremism
Actors	Government and security agencies	Same actors but also multidisciplinary, including civilian participation
Perception

Strategic Significance

- Hedayah is international, independent, a-political, non-ideological
- Hedayah serves as an a-political platform to connect policymakers to practitioners and experts
- Hedayah targets audiences that national governments may struggle to reach
- Hedayah allows national governments to "burden share"
- Connect with civil society as a non governmental organization
- Hedayah promotes an effective evidence-based approach

CVE through Communications

2. Introduction to CVE

- Definitions: The importance of common understanding and common vocabulary.
- CVE Methodology: Evolving, accepted best practices, transferable.
- Always reliant on local knowledge

Terrorism

- Criminal acts, including against civilians, committed with the intent to cause death or serious bodily injury, or taking of hostages, with the purpose to provoke a state of terror in the general public or in a group of persons or particular persons, intimidate a population or compel a government or an international organization to do or to abstain from doing any act.

(United Nations Security Council Resolution 1566, 2004)

Two key characteristics:

- A self-defined rational political/ideological objective
- The belief that violence is a legitimate and inevitable means to achieve that objective

Violent Extremism

- The purpose of violent extremism is to provoke the target into a disproportionate response, radicalise moderates and build support for its objectives in the long term, (David Lake, 2002).
- Interchangeable definitions and objective use of language

Mapping Attitudes to Violent Extremism

-  Mainstream society, opposed to violence
-  Sympathetic/ Acquiescent
-  Violent extremists

X= Circumstances that motivate individuals to re-engage with terrorism

Y= Circumstances that motivate individuals to reject terrorism

Radicalization

- A process by which a person to an increasing extent accepts the use of undemocratic or violent means, including terrorism, in an attempt to reach a specific political/ideological objective
(Danish Government, 2009)

Counter-Radicalization

- Radicalization is a process that can be countered
- Counter-Radicalization: The process of interaction through which individuals come to reject the legitimacy of violence as a means to achieve a specific political or ideological objective

Evidence Base for CVE

- Local understanding directs CVE activity
- Push Factors
- Pull Factors

3. CVE interventions

CVE Activity on Three Levels

- Working with governments to encourage national and international approaches at the policy level
- Building the capacity of local actors to deliver new interventions that make individuals and communities less susceptible to violent extremism
- Engaging with state actors to promote activity and behavior that ameliorates the threat – e.g. police, teachers, social workers, health officials

Counter-Narrative Response

- Role of the radicalizing narrative
- Counter-narrative using same method and media
- Directly addressing the pull factors - myth-busting and exposing hypocrisy

Responding Through Targeted Interventions

- Designing programs and projects that directly address the push and pull factors (CVE-specific)
- Avoiding CVE branding
- Non-CVE Programmes that have CVE benefits (CVE-relevant)

4. CVE and Education Frameworks

Mechanisms for CVE and Education Interventions

- Formal educational institutions
- Broader community and family-based education
- Engaging youth through other activities such as sports, arts, culture, media, gaming etc.

Types of CVE and Education Interventions

- Education ABOUT CVE
 - Provides platform for discussion in community about CVE
 - Catalyzes community to identify local push and pull factors
 - Encourages community solutions to counter violent extremism
- Education FOR CVE
 - Developing coursework or curricula (e.g. social and emotional learning) that addresses push and pull factors
 - Implementing programming in an educational setting to address push and pull factors (e.g. vocational training in education)
 - Equipping teachers and educators with skills and knowledge to build community resilience to violent extremism

CVE and Education: GCTF Current Status

- Work Plan of GCTF CVE Working Group - Abu Dhabi , Apr '12

Specifically discussed the need to identify and develop best practices for government engagement with educational institutions to prevent and counter VE.

- Plenary Meeting of GCTF CVE Working Group - London, Jun '13

US Non-Paper re-emphasized the need for applying CVE strategies to education by focusing on specific areas, such as identity and values, vocational and technical training, life-skills, violence prevention and social work in schools, as well as communities and families.

- Abu Dhabi Memorandum on GP for Education and CVE

Confirmed at September 2014 Ministerial Meeting by GCTF members. Hedayah led the discussions and the development of this good practices document in collaboration with interested GCTF members.

- Action Plan on CVE and Education (Forthcoming)

Tracking and mapping of existing CVE and education initiatives as illustrative of examples of good practice.

CVE and Education at Hedayah

- Closed Expert Roundtable on the Role of Education in CVE, New York, Sep '13
- Senior Official Meeting on Education and CVE, New York, Sep '13
- Workshop on Roles of Families and Communities in Strengthening Community Resilience against VE, Abu Dhabi, Dec '13
- Practitioner-Focused Workshop on Education and CVE, Abu Dhabi, May '14
- CVE and Education Training Program- , Abu Dhabi, May '14
- Expert Meeting on the Role of Sports, Arts and Culture in CVE, Abu Dhabi, May '14
- CVE and Education Training, Abu Dhabi, March/April '15

Abu Dhabi Memorandum on Education and CVE

- GCTF Framework Document
- Intended to support GCTF members with guidelines for how to implement CVE and Education policy and programs
- Evidence-Based approach to development:
 - series of workshops and meetings
 - consultations with experts
 - research conducted by Hedayah
- Hedayah will work with the GCTF to implement among interested countries

Abu Dhabi Memorandum on Education and CVE

- General Good Practices
 - Emphasis on multi-sectoral, comprehensive approach including education sector
 - Noting that labeling programs as “CVE” may have adverse effects
 - Utilize an evidence-based approach
 - Conduct interventions at an early age
- Educational Approaches
 - Enhance problem-solving and critical thinking skills
 - Promote civic education, civic responsibility and human values in curricula
 - Offer vocational training and technical training
 - Relate CVE issues to existing social issues
 - Address role of trauma in building resilience to trauma
- Institutional Approaches
 - Utilize experiential learning techniques
 - Promote safe spaces for discussion of ideas in school setting
 - Provide incentives to parents for school enrollment/basic access

Abu Dhabi Memorandum on Education and CVE

- Institutional Approaches (Cont.)
 - Train teachers on managing biases and on identifying signs of radicalization
 - Integrate marginalized communities
 - Engage and incorporate private sector partners where relevant
 - Engage and incorporate media sector to reinforce values learned in school
 - Tap into technology to enhance learning of basic skills
- Family-Based and Community Approaches
 - Involve youth in the development of their own educational programming
 - Engage community leaders in educational programs to raise awareness of VE and techniques to counter it
 - Offer opportunities for families and parents to learn about VE
 - Interact with families to reinforce formal lessons at home
- Sports, Arts and Cultural Approaches
 - Incorporate and coordinate with sports, arts and cultural programs to reinforce and build secondary effects for formal educational programs for CVE
